The Association for Commuter Transportation (ACT) announced its 2018 National Awards on the final day of its International Conference in Anaheim, CA.

Award winners represented a diverse range of programs, organizations, and people focused on improving the quality of life of commuters, the livability of communities, and economic growth of businesses.

Our 2018 winners were:

Excellence in Advocacy: Commuting Solutions

Excellence in Research: Jessica Roberts, Alta Planning + Design, James LaPointe, TransLink

Employee Transportation Champion: David Cook, University of Colorado Boulder

Marketing & Outreach - Partnership: IE Commuter (RCTC – IE Commuter, SBCTA – IE Commuter, WSP – IE Commuter)

Marketing & Outreach - Public: Georgia Commute Options – In partnership with Cobb County DOT

Marketing & Outreach - TMA: GVF

Marketing & Outreach - University: Cal State University LA Transportation Services

Commuter Options - Transit: UCLA Transportation

Commuter Options - Telework: Delta Dental of Washington

Commuter Options - Shared-Use Mobility: Beacon Capital Partners – AMA Plaza

Commuter Options - Vanpooling: Aaron Moore, Victor Valley Transit Authority

Commuter Options - Carpooling: City of Austin Smart Commute Rewards

Commuter Options - Bicycling: Go Redmond

Outstanding TMA: Commute Seattle

Outstanding Building & Developer: Hines – Atlantic Station
ACT National Board President, Rob Henry also presented President’s Awards, recognizing the distinguished leadership and achievements of the following organizations and individuals.

Emerging Leader: Erika Benti, Colorado State University

TDM Service Award: Beth Snoke, The Ohio State University

Chapter of the Year: Midwest Chapter

Bob Owens TDM Champion Award: David McMaster, Metropolitan Transit Authority of Harris County Texas